WORCESTERS PIANOS.—From the New York Commercial Advertiser, November 17th, 1859:—"For the better part of a generation they have been constantly before the public, all of them, old and new, proving, by their stability and constancy, the skill with which they are constructed. For durability of tone, for evenness and uniformity of work, and for excellence of frames, these PIANOS may well challenge competition. We know instruments of Mr. Worcestor's turn out, that have borne the thumping of fifteen years, and remain as perfect in tone and in build as in their first estate. The number made at this Factory is largely increased from year to year." I am sole Agent in Alexandria, for the above PIANOS, and will furnish any number at Factory prices, 5 per ct. off for CASH, or at six months for approved negotiable paper, and WARRANT every Instrument. Feeling perfectly satisfied that a better PIANO cannot be had in the United States, I respectfully solicit orders from all who want, and are disposed to patronize home trade.

COMMUNICATED. A SONG FOR CONGRESS. Hail, glorious Union! hail!", once more,

NO. 28.

We stand again, and pledge us o'er This nectar toast for Gods! For we are sworn in thy defence, And view with mutual pride Thy bulwarks, towers, and battlements,

Whatever be our odds,

That have old storms defied. Thy banner waving on the breeze, Above one mighty dome, Beneath which all hearts beat at ease

And each man finds a home. It took the hand of God and man To build this Union forth! The greatest, grandest, noblest Fane That crowns this heaving Earth!

Above the eddying swirl, A lighthouse for the Nation's barques! A guide-star for the world! But ah! a Carthage, Athens, Rome, Were once as full of vaunts;

Which stands upon Life's toil-heaped rocks

And now-what dire suggestive doom! "They were Republics once." And we-built yet of mightier stones, Heaved from Time's vasty flood

Made sacred by our Father's bones, Cemented with their blood-Shall we be like to them! To them! A very laughing stock, At which the crowned heads can—"hem!"

And point the ruthless joke? No! we will right our quarrels dire Though wring our souls it may, For our brave Eagle perches higher, Superior to such prey.

And all these humbuggs at the best Are feathers on the air-He's only stirring up his nest, To rest the better there! Let Legislators prate and fight,

Or graver Senators think; They have not power, for all their might, To make our good ship sink. A virtuous crew are still on board, Nor mutiny will they,

And at the helm a Captain's word, Which "Peace be still" can say. Who breathes disunion?-Ah! who dares? Let s give him scorpion whips; Or mark him with the burning "stars," And stripe him with the "stripes."

The stars from our loved flag, And Freedom make her funeral pall Of that poor tattered rag!

For like the stars from Heaven would fall,

No! not so-Freedom cannot die: If we to her prove false-She quits the last spot 'neath the sky On which her footstep balts: And with a wild anathema,

At which all earth shall quiver, She leaves this world and wings her way Where Union lasts forever! TARPLEY STARR.

COMMUNICATED. Permit me, through your columns, to call the attention of your readers to a subject which I fear is becoming an increasing evil. increased our business during the past year, we feel | BEST FINE GROUND WINDSOR PLASTER, | Though it may interest but few, still it may prove beneficial to some. I allude to the very impolite custom which some persons possess, of whis pering in the social circle. Can this be owing to the scarcity of the letters of Lord Chesterfield? If so we wish that those specimens of decorum were as numerous as the leaves of autumn! Does this uncivil habit proceed from ignorance of the common etiquette of society? If so, some
